

ENTIRE CITY COUNCIL SUMMONED TO APPEAR IN GRAFT PROBE

WATSON, DONOGHUE AND WALSH GIZZED ON SECRET CITY HALL PARLEY

But having been illuded in Stuart Jones' suit for divorce on statutory grounds.

Dorothy Gordon, who was a bricklayer's witness, under related protest, admissions that he had been in Municipal and Superior Courts on larceny and idle and disorderly charges.

Finally Solomon was allowed to go until he could get to a lawyer. He was to be back at 12. When he failed to reappear by 12:30 Daniel A. Griffin, State Prison officer, testified that Solomon served ten months of a three to five year term for receiving stolen goods.

When Councilman Watson arrived he entered January, with cheerful "Hi-dee" to successive greetings. He asked generally:

"Any Ku Klux present?"

Councilman Courtney said:

JOHN A. DONOGHUE.

son protested that his time was being wasted and if they wished him to take the stand he would like to do so. He was sworn.

COULDN'T RECALL MEETING.

Watson was questioned by Attorney Dowling.

Q—On June 5 the loan order for the purchase of Baldwin place was rejected. A—Yes.

Q—On July 5 was the first reading of that order? A—Yes.

Q—Between June 5 and July 21 do you know of any conference that any of the councilmen had in the interests of the passage of that order? A—I can't say that I did.

Q—Did you take part in any conference relative to that matter after June 5? A—I think I talked with Walter Collins and Miss Herlihy of the planning board about it.

Q—Can't you recall any conference with a member of the council? A—I don't know as you would call it a conference. I discussed the matter with Councilman Lane, Gilbohy and Hama.

Q—Did you consult with Brickley? A—I think so.

Q—With Moriarty? A—Yes. I talked with some of the councilmen and I asked them to vote for the loan order. I thought I thought the purchase of the property was necessary; that there should be a playground on Baldwin place. I told them I did not want to vote for it because a great leader in Ward 5 would benefit.

Q—Did you see any conference on July 21? A—That's a ridiculous question. If you ask me if I saw a conference at which somebody was putting up something crooked I'll say so.

NO RECALL.

Q—Do you recall the recess at the meeting of July 21? A—I presume there was one.

Q—During that recess were you called into an anti-room by any member of the Council? A—No.

Q—Did you talk with Walsh, Moriarty and Brickley in regard to the property that day? A—No, sir, not to the best of my recollection.

CHANCE VOTE.

Q—Then you voted for it because it was your belief that best order should be passed. No one influenced you? A—No one influenced me.

Councilman Donoghue denied there had been a conference and at the invitation of Chairman Sullivan made a statement. He said: "I have read the testimony that a Mr. Pinckney said he had talked with Moriarty and me. He came to Moriarty's office one day and talked to a friend of mine who was having. He said he was the agent and trying to sell the land. Reading Collins asked me to reconsider the vote I had cast."

CHANGED VOTE.

"I thought the order was brought to a vote. It was the first time any councilman had named a playground order had named a playground order."

The inquiry to find out about a mysterious payment of $10,000 of this $10,000.

Poorva said that President Isaac of the congregation told him that $10,000 was to be paid to a man whose last name began with "B."

During the meeting of the arbitration committee, Poorva said, he asked Heller what Heller did with $10,000 already paid.

"Heller threatened with a $10,000 fine," Poorva continued, "because I wanted to know where the $10,000 came."

Q—Was it said at the meeting that the "Odeon" had to be paid? A—Yes.

COLLEGE EXPULSION CASE FIGURES IN DRIVE AGAINST BUTLER

PROFESSOR ACCUSES BUTLER

Declares Supreme Court Aspirant is Lacking in the Judicial Temperament

By WILLIAM HARD.
Copyright, 1922, by Connecticut News Service.
Washington, Dec. 5.—An important part of the evidence which will be presented to the Senate in opposition to the confirmation of Pierce Butler, of Minnesota, to the Supreme Court became known today.

"This evidence has to do with the circumstances attending the expulsion of Dr. William A. Schaper from the faculty of the University of Minnesota on charges of 'ProGermanism' in 1917 by action of the university board of regents, of which Mr. Butler was a member. This Schaper case became famous in the history of the struggle for 'freedom of speech and of opinion' in American universities, and the methods employed by the Minnesota board of regents—and particularly by Mr. Butler—in expelling Dr. Schaper from the faculty were severely condemned by resolution of the Association of American University Professors.

It was claimed then, and it is now again claimed, that Mr. Butler's conduct was totally devoid of a regard for justice and that it altogether disqualified him to be considered as a person of a judicial temperament.

OPPOSED THE WAR.
Dr. Schaper is in Washington and is prepared to present his case to the Senate Judiciary committee. His position is that of head of the department of political science.

He was also considerably employed by Minnesota cities in the drafting of city charters. He was born at Le Crosse, Wis., of German parents, who came to this country in protest against German militarism at the time of the German revolutionary movement in 1848.

He opposed the entrance of this country into the war against Germany, but supported the war from the time of its declaration by Congress, and is shown by convincing testimony to have refrained thereafter from all anti-war propaganda and to have actively encouraged his students of military age to enlist in the American army.

He was expelled by the university regents at a meeting in which Mr. Butler bore a prominent part.

QUERIED BY BUTLER.
Regarding what happened during that half hour the following allegations will be made:
Dr. Schaper was summoned before the board of regents at fifteen minutes notice.

Among the regents present were Mr. Butler, Governor Hurst and Fred Snyder.
Dr. Schaper was asked what he thought about the war and he replied that he had no opinion, entering it, but that as an American citizen he supported the army and navy when the United States in fact was in the war.

Mr. Butler said to him: "In other words, you obey the law in order to keep out of jail."

Dr. Schaper replied that he obeyed the law out of sense of duty as a citizen.

Mr. Butler shouted: "You want the Kaiser and the Crown Prince to rule the world."

STAGE AMBITIONS LEAD BOSTON GIRL TO JAIL

MARGARET MCGOVERN

POVERTY LED SUICIDE'S BODY HUB SOLOIST TO STEAL DANGLES FROM WINDOW

Lowell, Dec. 5.—Local newspaper reported of a young woman, Margaret McGovern, who had been convicted of stealing a coat, worth $14.00, from a Fifth Avenue store. A charge of violating the Sullivan anti-firearm law was filed, after she explained that a man had given her a revolver to hold when a policeman approached.

Miss McGovern lived here at No. 115 Huntington Avenue, Back Bay, and is twenty years old. She was formerly employed as a stenographer here, but later quit that vocation to sing for private clubs and had been in several musical productions here, and decided several weeks ago to go to New York.

EXPOSED BY WOMAN, SLAYER CONFESSES
Chicago, Dec. 4. (By International News Service).—Retired to the police by a woman, Morris Eigolowich, today made a confession that he and three other men now under arrest, were responsible for the murder of "Handsome Joe" Lanza, wealthy automobile dealer.

Lanza was killed during a hold-up when one of the four bandits pulled on him to "throw up his hands."

The women's umbrellas are all silk, in navy, purple, brown, garnet, green and black, with cases to match. One-inch border.

Handles are imitation ivory and amber. Many have sterling silver trimmings. Some have the large rings, others the leather straps. Tips and ends to match handles. All made on an eight-rib paragon frame.

The men's are made from a high-grade silk mixed cloth. Full size. Handles are malacca, ebony or horn. Some plain, but a great many with sterling trimmings.

JORDAN MARSH JOINS BUYING COMBINE

An important step in the forward march of its business was announced today by Jordan Marsh Company, through President George W. Mitten.

This is the formation of a new foreign buying organization, in which move Jordan Marsh Company, Lord & Taylor of New York and James MacCreary & Co. of New York.

Each of the principal stores in this movement has had some twenty-five or thirty buyers going to Europe each year to make these buyers several times a year in the interest of the individual store.

It is planned to open principal offices in Paris, London and Berlin, with branch offices in Brussels, Frankfurt, Vienna and as many other points as will be required to cover properly the scouting for, purchasing of, and forwarding of goods from the various foreign trade centers to the member stores of the organization.

sent to Europe, but the foreign buyers will be brought back to the United States frequently, so that they can familiarize themselves with what is going on here.

The percentage of foreign goods sold by American department stores is very small in the total of their yearly transactions. Nevertheless, this organization, headed by Jordan Marsh Company, Lord & Taylor and James MacCreary & Co., will represent an annual wholesale purchasing power of approximately $5,000,000.

Each of the principal stores in this movement has had some twenty-five or thirty buyers going to Europe each year to make these buyers several times a year in the interest of the individual store.

BAY STATE TO GET 60 P. C. NORMAL COAL

A report to all local fuel administrators from State Fuel Administrator James J. Phelan points out that only 60 per cent. of the normal amount of coal can be shipped to Massachusetts this winter. It is added, however, that shipments will not be allowed to fall below this quota. A complete list of fair prices is also sent to all local distributors.

MISSING BOSTON MAN SOUGHT BY SISTER

Missing since before the war, William Blake, formerly of this city, is being sought by his sister, Miss Della Blake of No. 115 Walnut Avenue, Roxbury, who has asked the Boston American to aid in the search. Blake is described as short, a little over five feet in height, with dark complexion and weighing about 145 pounds. He is now 37 years old.

He was accustomed to going to Maine from time to time, and he has been traced as far as Greenville Junction in that state, where he boarded with a Mrs. Marsh.

TIGER TALKS 40 MINUTES WITH HARDING

(International News Service Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, Dec. 5.—George Clemenceau spent forty minutes with President Harding today on his first visit to the White House.

What they talked about during the forty-three quarters of an hour the Tiger was cloistered with Mr. Harding, was not revealed, but the versatile Frenchman was his usual jaunty self as he emerged from the President's office.

The Tiger's appointment with Mr. Harding was for 10 o'clock. He was five minutes early. Promptly at 10 o'clock he presented himself at the executive offices, accompanied by Ambassador Jusserand and he was ushered immediately into the President's office. Mr. Jusserand was present during the time the "Tiger" and the President were together.

A small crowd of admirers clustered outside the executive offices applauded vigorously, when Clemenceau emerged and the aged Frenchman gave them a wave of his hand as he clambered into his car for a visit to the Lincoln Memorial.

While Col. E. M. House, who is in charge of Clemenceau's tour, had previously announced that the Tiger would call on Mr. Wilson soon after he had paid his respects to the President, friends of Mr. Wilson said today they understood he would not receive his old colleague until tomorrow afternoon.

RADIO DEBATE ON BONUS BILL

The first radio debate ever held will be broadcast from the Harvard Broadcasting station (WVNA) tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. The debate will be between the two members of the College of Business of Boston University, the subject being "Resolved: That President Harding was justified in vetoing the bonus bill."

W. H. Fraser and W. B. Wells will uphold the affirmative. While the negative side will be taken by I. C. Hucksman and A. A. Lee.

Seals have been reserved for the public at the College of Business of Boston University, where a party or set is being installed. Those listening will be asked to vote by mail, and the result will be announced next week by radio. Later one western college will challenge a debate on the same subject.

pay. That kind of patriotism counts, and the Italians have it.

TIM HEALY is Governor-General of the Irish Free State. There is a first class fighting Irishman. This writer heard him speak from "below the gangway," where the Irishmen sat, on the night of the Mitchellstown disaster. It was long after midnight, the news had just come, all speaking was impromptu. Healy's speech was that of a noble patriot. And the speech that followed, by Gladstone, was most admirable.

HEALY, WHEN moved, could talk plainly. When a military officer sits in Parliament, he is referred to as the "honorable and gallant" member. It was Healy who rose to remark, of a certain Tory colonel: "The honorable and gallant gentleman is a witful and cowardly liar," when the speaker said solemnly: "Honorable, I name you," and he was led off the floor. Healy mounted hastily to the Prince of Wales' section of the gallery and continued his demonstration there. A fine lot of fighting men were present, Dillon, O'Brien, Redmond and Healy, nearly all gone.

That Healy, after 18 years in Parliament for Ireland, and our years in retirement should now cross the Irish sea as Governor-General of the Irish Free State, and actually representing the person of the English King, in that Free State government, shows that anything is possible in politics.

A FINE thing about the automobile is its democracy. At New York's motor car "salon" (why salon?) a pretty blue car is offered for $25,000. You can walk a few blocks and for a few hundred dollars get a car that will do all the $25,000 car can do and give you 50,000 miles service. If you know how to take care of it.

HAVE YOU seen a government report saying that the hoplost would be worth hundreds of millions a year, devouring insects that destroy crops and spread disease? "If it only had wings." Having no wings it moves so slowly that its services as a bug catcher amount to little. Automobile salesman should remember that. Many a man, if he had a good automobile, would be as much improved as a toad would be, with a pair of good wings.

PAT SOMERSET COURT HOLDS UP AND MISS DAY QUIT SHOW

New York, Dec. 5.—Pat Somerset, flashing British actor, and Edith Day, his beautiful co-star, in "Orange Blossoms" at the Fulton Theatre, have severed their connections with the play.

Linking the names of Somerset and Miss Day has caused box office receipts to slump woefully. It was said at the Fulton Theatre.

Things came to such a pass that Edward G. Robinson, of the company, suggested to the couple that they resign.

Somerset, at the Hotel Woodward, denied he and Miss Day had been dismissed. He said:

"Miss Day and myself had an option with Mr. Dillingham which we exercised by asking that we be allowed to leave the show after its New York run. Mr. Dillingham consented. We had intended to go on the road, but since then we have had several contracts offered to us. Call me up about Friday, and I will let you know our next engagement."

COURT HOLDS UP DURANT LAND PURCHASE

A temporary order, restraining the Durant, Inc., from completing its proposed purchase of the circumscribed on Huntington avenue, from the Boston Elevated Railway, for a subhouse, has been issued by Judge Lorton in the Equity Motiona Division, at the request of Margery Y. Jewett and seventeen other members.

The complainants allege that the purchase price, $235,000, would not only take all of the $235,000 in the treasury, but it $100,000 higher than the valuation set on the property by the Real Estate Exchange. Many members, they say, joined with the understanding that the proposed selling would be nearer Copley square.

CAT AND DOG GOT HUSBAND'S PLACE IN BED

Mrs. Mary A. Wilson of No. 13 West Springfield street was before Judge Lorie in Municipal Court today charged with assault and battery on her husband, Frank H. Wilson.

"She showed more regard for the cat and dog and gave them my place in bed," testified Wilson. "When I started to pull the dog out of bed it bit me, and my wife started at me with her fists."

Judge Lorie gave Mrs. Wilson a concise lecture. He told her that converting her husband's side of the bed into a menagerie was not according to domestic ethics, and with the promise that she would never do it again he placed her case on file.

Chairs for Christmas

Chairs are admirable gifts. Everyone welcomes another chair in the home circle. And there are as many kinds of chairs as there are places to put them.

The fireside chair is a necessity where there are fireplaces. Mother loves to rock and sew—a rocker for her by all means. Dad wants a man's chair—roomy with broad back and big arms—to read and smoke in after dinner. Dear old dad! Nothing's too good for him.

Debutante Sister would love a desk chair—to say nothing of a desk. Her correspondence is growing so. As for Bill, a Windsor is just the thing for his den.

MRS. BECKER ALIVE WHEN BURIED IN PIT, AUTOPSY PROVES

REAR END LEFT FOR HOURS

Husband is Arraigned Under Heavy Guard; the Court Names His Counsel

New York, Dec. 5.—Abraham Becker, charged with murder in burying his wife, Jennie, alive in a boiler pit at One Hundred and Ninety street and Southern Boulevard on April 7, after leading her to an iron pipe, appeared in the Bronx County Court before Judge Louis B. Glavin for pleading.

A conference was held between Chief Medical Examiner Nathan and Assistant Examiners Joseph Koenig and John E. Rosenbaum regarding the medical aspects of the case.

The medical examiners told the District Attorney that their autopsy showed that Mrs. Becker lived for at least fifteen minutes after being buried in the boiler pit and may have lived for several hours.

PRISONER HEAVILY GUARDED. Becker was taken into the court room under a guard of police. Police reserves were called to handle the crowd. He was wearing a blue suit and a white shirt.

He then adjourned the case until Thursday morning. Later he was heard as the charges were read. He turned white as the clerk finished reading. The court then named Charles V. Maher, Jr., counsel for Becker.

Miss Anna Kahn, of whose child Becker is the father, was brought in and held in $1,000 as a material witness in the case.

Brother Nickin, confessed assassin in the slaying, now being held in $10,000 as a material witness, will today occupy the attention of the grand jury. Assistant District Attorney Cahn will ask for his arrest for first degree murder.

FEARED TO VISIT SHOP. According to Cahn, Nickin has confessed to have been in a hotel room in the slaying. He said that since April he had not had the courage to visit his shop at night because of the fear of the dead woman of the knowledge of the deed being lying in wait for him.

Cahn made public a letter written by Mrs. Becker's mother, Mrs. Kate Koenig, of No. 2 to London road, Broomfield, London, England. It was sent to Mrs. Jennie Lincoln, of whose house Becker was charged with killing on the night of Mrs. Becker's disappearance. The letter follows:

"My Dear Friend—I received your letter. I was very happy to hear from you. I am sure that your daughter is still missing. My dear friend, God knows what my husband done to her—if he would have only let me know where she is, but I don't think she will run away from her children as she charged them. He always illustrated her, but she stuck to him. He was loved with a different woman and had a child by that woman, but they went back to London."

PONZI FOREMAN SCORES ALLEN'S MOTIVES

A caustic reply to the attack which Attorney-General J. Watson Allen made on the jury that recently acquitted Charles Ponzi in the $20,000,000 case has been issued by Philip Imbisch, foreman of the jury.

"The attorney general appears to have formed the habit of attacking everybody who stands in the way of his ambition," remarked Imbisch.

Attorney General's statement that the jury was shocked at the verdict in the Federal Court, even though he believed him innocent, apparently had great influence with the jurors, from Imbisch's statement.

His reply follows: "Attorney General Allen stated that the moral sensibilities of the community were shocked at the verdict rendered in the Ponzi case. The Attorney-General also said that he could not understand how we could ever acquit a man after he had been found guilty in the United States Court, that said man was entered under advice of counsel because at the time public opinion was strong against Ponzi, and also pressure by Ponzi's wife, Ponzi at all times declared his innocence."

We further were told by the prosecuting judge that the record of Ponzi's two former convictions and imprisonments could only be taken into account as they might affect the credit of Ponzi. The evidence showed that it was only after a long period of time that Ponzi finally concluded to plead guilty.

Mr. Allen is probably unaware of the fact that there was evidence introduced in the trial which was corroborated by witnesses explaining the reason why Ponzi pleaded guilty to said charges in the United States Court, that said man was entered under advice of counsel because at the time public opinion was strong against Ponzi, and also pressure by Ponzi's wife, Ponzi at all times declared his innocence."

"We further were told by the prosecuting judge that the record of Ponzi's two former convictions and imprisonments could only be taken into account as they might affect the credit of Ponzi. The evidence showed that it was only after a long period of time that Ponzi finally concluded to plead guilty."

—The New York Herald Tribune.

Allen Leaves Case to Ponzi's 'Victims'

Attorney General Allen, when shown statements of jurors in the Ponzi case said:

"The statements speak for themselves. The jury accepted the evidence offered by Ponzi and the cases as to why Ponzi, by his plea of guilty in the Federal Court, admitted that this very scheme was fraudulent. The tens of thousands of Ponzi's victims will scarcely accept this explanation of a self-confessed felon."

"Letters and messages have poured in from those who are shocked at the verdict."

"I shall discuss the need for reform in the jury system in my annual report."

'DOVER ROAD' IS DELIGHTFUL COMEDY

By NICHOLAS YOUNG.

As a byway of human interest and unadorned romance, with comedy as capitalizing as anything found in the theatre this season, "The Dover Road" gave last night's audience at the Plymouth a practical and exceedingly entertaining view of domestic infidelity at its funniest.

In any event, the author has drawn a rather cheerful picture of what might have been a distressing affair, and by the simple expedient of exposing the human weakness of his central characters, he had no difficulty in getting the play before any serious damage was done.

DELICIOUS AMUSEMENT. Although scarcely achieving moments of hilarity, this A. A. Milne play carried its audience through an evening of delicious amusement. Adroitly drawn and skillfully handled, the people who moved through "The Dover Road" were very much worth knowing. For the most part they were human beings, not caricatures, and when you learned that the two sleeping couples had been made prisoners in a wayside home on the Dover road you felt, rather than sorry, that the author had made a very merry complication.

And you got them. Captaincy acted from one end of the cast to the other. "The Dover Road" left nothing to be desired from the artistic side of the performance. Charles Cherry, perhaps the best dramatic actor of the present period, was superb in his interpretation of a middle-aged Mr. Fick, determined to return to his duties and to his family.

He gave a splendid performance. The real humor of the evening, however, was found in the brilliant presentation of the singing Leonard by Reginald Mason, who must have proved himself a great joy to the author. He gave his audience a full measure of his art and sent every body home in high spirits. George Fiddell, Kathleen Kennerly, Molly Pearson and Lionel Watts were excellent in their parts.

In a season almost too heavy with mystery plays and chilling melodramas, "The Dover Road" furnished a most refreshing relief. It is rare entertainment.

Edgar Allen Poe Square Bears Old Name Again

The square of the junction of Broadway, Carter and Fayette streets, South End, has once again been named Edgar Allen Poe.

It has the name of the poet before the war, but was changed to Matthew E. Ryan square in honor of a local war hero. An agreement with the American Legion was made whereby the corner of Warren and Stuart streets was named Matthew E. Ryan square.

Edgar Allen Poe was born in Ceyx street a few houses from the square now named after him.

'DOLBY' BRINGS LAUGHS

You will forget all about the empty coil big if you take in "Dolby," which is being presented by the Boston Stock Company at the St. James Theatre.

Ruth Nudon as Dolores, a fortune teller, makes a most convincing study of the character. She is always trying to find friend husband, but she is always being deceived by him.

Walter Gilbert acted the part of the husband. At first he had his difficulties as a friend wife tried to find social life with him, but he was everything else but a friend.

The play is a comedy. It is a story of a man who is always being deceived by his wife. He is always trying to find friend husband, but he is always being deceived by her.

SNAPPY SHOW IS NEW CAPITAL BIG HIT AT MAJESTIC THEATRE'S OPENED

"Say It With Laughs," with a clean list of headlines and an unusual chorus, should make the Majestic Theatre a mecca this week for lovers of the new sublimity of vaudeville revues.

Roger Imhof, irresistible comedian, is the centre of the unit vaudeville show, and is surrounded by a rare galaxy of artists, including Bobby Barry, Max Myers, Florence Talbot, Daisy Harris, Dick Lescroart and Marcelle Corneil.

Bobby Barry is one of the hardest worked individuals in the show. He appears in half a dozen different scenes. When he is on the stage there are no dull moments, for he is a sure-fire laugh maker. He has the happy faculty of making the audience laugh without any apparent effort for his humor is spontaneous.

Thirteen scenes, rich in laughing, dancing and musical numbers, comprise the revue. Among the vaudeville acts are the Barry Twins, George and Evelyn, in an amusing interlude of antique dancing, dainty costumes, a nifty song and a surprising novelty finish.

The Majestic's show this week not only "Says It With Laughs," but adds enough of the kind of plot that makes people flock to catch musical revues.

THE DEAD, THE BEEN DYING FROM POISONOUS LIQUOR

No Home, So Elopers Have to Part

PARENTS GIN BLAMED FOR WOES OF BOTH ANGRY

Sherman Gleason, 19, of Newton, Runs Off With Edith Wholey, Brighton Girl

Angry parents, tender age, legal formalities failed to halt cupid's elopement of Sherman Gleason of Newton and Edith Wholey of Brighton, but a little later for an apartment has separated the young couple. Gleason is only nineteen, while Wholey is a year younger. He is the son of the Mrs. M. A. Gleason of No. 125 Avenue C, Newton, and the daughter of Mr. J. H. Wholey of No. 100 West Street, Brighton. When they were together, the young couple was a complete surprise to parents of both.

It is not true that my parents had never seen Edith. When we returned from Nahant, N. H., where we had quickly gone for the very first time, I was told by my mother that she would like to see her.

At that time we were at the New Hampshire State House in Concord. The young couple was there for a few days, and then they returned to their homes. The Gleason family was very angry, and the Wholey family was very tender.

WIFE FLED TO READ CARDS COUNTLESS ACCUSED BY GRON

By MARGERY LEE
Portland, Me., Dec. 5.—One point of the "17 point letter"

Jeremiah Leonard told Chief Justice Hall in the Suffolk County Divorce Court today that his wife, Carrie, just couldn't quit reading cards. "She read them for money," he complained.

According to Leonard there were two busy men among Carrie's card readers. "I told her this and she said she would read cards for me," he said. "In the morning she would be back and want to read."

"Have you tried to get her back?" asked the judge.

"I have tried to get her back," said Leonard. "But she won't come back."

At the hearing, Leonard's wife, Susan, had not appeared. Leonard said that she had been away from him for two weeks. He said that she had been away from him for two weeks. He said that she had been away from him for two weeks.

VICTIMS FOUNDED ON BOSTON STREETS

One of Those Near Death, Badly Beaten; Woman Among Unfortunates

One dead and twelve dying is the toll of poisonous moonshine liquor in Boston during the past twenty-four hours. Identity of the dead man is not established. The number of victims was declared a record at City Hospital.

The dead man was picked up in front of No. 3-4 Washington Street, South End, by a policeman. His body was removed to the Southern Mortuary.

The following are on the danger list at City Hospital:

William Huran, 45 years old, of Roxbury, found suffering from alcoholism at Dudley and East Cottage streets.

VICTIM ASSAULTED.

Michael Norton, 65 years old, of No. 444 Blue Hill Avenue, Roxbury, who was found by La Grange Street police at Broadway and New Street. He was suffering from alcoholism, injury to the left hip and had been assaulted, the police stated.

Austrian Caran, fifty-seven years old, of No. 28 Walnut Avenue, Roxbury, found unconscious on the sidewalk in front of No. 41 Middlesex Street, South End, by police of Station 5.

Alfred Kelley of No. 143 C Street, South Boston, found unconscious at Dover Street bridge by police of the Athens street station.

Stephen Winter, thirty years old, of Charlestown, picked up on Washington Street. He was found to be suffering from the effects of denatured alcohol.

SKULL FRACTURED.

James Duggan, of No. 42 Cliff Road, found at Brookline and Tremont streets.

John Huran, forty-five years old, of No. 45 Forest Hill Street, found unconscious at St. Rufus and Tremont streets by the police. His skull was also fractured.

On the danger list at the Haymarket Police Station:

Abraham Boardman, 30 years old, of No. 71 Leavitt Street, W. R. 2, who was picked up in a doorway at the corner of the street and taken to the hospital.

Robert Amory, who was picked up in a dangerous condition on State Street, near Atlantic Avenue. He was unable to state his residence. He is about 37 years old.

A woman giving her name as Mrs. John A. Boardman, 30 years old, of No. 45 Forest Hill Street, was also found unconscious at St. Rufus and Tremont streets. She is also listed among the "moonshine" sufferers. Her condition is not serious, however, hospital officials say.

John B. Lewis is believed to be the man who was found unconscious at the corner of the street and taken to the hospital.

CARPENTIER'S MANAGER CALLS FAKE STORY POLITICAL PLOT

DIAGNE MUST PROVE FRAME-UP CHARGES

Paris, Dec. 5 (By the Associated Press)—It is an infamous lie, said Francois Desamps, manager of Georges Carpentier, today, who shows the declaration by Battling Siki that his championship match with Carpentier was to have been a "frame-up."

Says Diagne Mixing Sports and Politics

I believe Diagne's conduct has been checked by the press. Outside of electoral considerations, Diagne perhaps is not in good faith, but he is making a big mistake in mixing sports with politics. Sports are had enough without being compared with some of our politicians.

I have never met Siki in my life. He was pointed out to me one evening in a Montmartre bar, but his condition was such that I convinced me there was no possibility of his being a champion. I would have refused to enter any agreement to let him say four rounds, even had it been proposed to me.

Desamps said he protested his deepest enmity against "these stupid accusations."

Not A Fair Trial
The ambition of Carpentier and myself for the close of our pugilistic life," he continued, "was to get the Negro once more into the ring with George—to get a revenge match. It would have been a real battle for our part to work for his disqualification."

Desamps didn't want any title which he does not earn in the ring. He was interested in the prize money. He was not interested in the title. He was not interested in the title. He was not interested in the title.

World's Champion Liar New Title Given Siki

Paris, Dec. 5 (By the Associated Press)—The declaration that Battling Siki is "a much greater liar than he ever was a fighter" and that no one "can take away his title as champion heavyweight liar of the world," was the only comment which M. Hellers, manager of the Senegalese, made to newspaper correspondents today when confronted with Siki's "confession" concerning the Carpentier bout as published in some of the morning papers.

M. Hellers added that he would defend himself to the limit and defied M. Diagne, the Senegalese deputy, to produce any proof of the alleged frame-up beyond the unsupported word of Siki.

Neither Desamps nor Carpentier would make any comment concerning the charges that the bout was framed. Desamps said: "My name is not mentioned in this affair, but I may give a statement to the press later."

M. Hellers has been missing for several days, but he rose from his sick bed last evening to attend a meeting of the French Boxing Federation. He has a bad cold, and his physician has ordered him to remain indoors.

Phil Glasman has come to bat with a few poppy remarks about Harry (Kid) Brown, Philadelphia 135½ pounder, who was given forth to battle with Tony Julian of Brooklyn at the Armory A. A. show at the Grand Opera House tomorrow night.

Brown is the junior lightweight champion of the world, and Glasman is also prepared to make the featherweight limit for Johnny Sullivan.

I believe that this sensational encounter will be able to defeat Kilbane and Lunder. The fact that Brown has been fighting for several years has many fans to consider him a veteran. As a matter of fact he is only in his early twenties. He is 10 years younger than Kilbane and Lunder.

Brown has won a greater fighter than the one who has defeated Johnny Sullivan. Jimmy Davis and Roger Martin when Brown steps into the ring at the Armory Club, Harry is a finished fight.

It has all the qualities to go to make a champion.

Julian, one of the best of our New York school-brothers, will probably be staged on the latter date.

At Sullivan, late Turkish wrestling sensation, will have George Kotsonarou, Greek champion, as an opponent in a finish must be at the show as staged by the Old Howard management at the Grand Opera House Thursday night.

Sullivan is a strong, powerful fellow and is confident he will win. The fact that he is a Greek is a bonus. The fact that he is a Greek is a bonus.

FIGHT FANS HELP OUT XMAS BASKET FUND

The arrival of December brought with it the Christmas spirit. Our basket fund is preparing to pick up a bit. The mail is going heavy yesterday and so was the invasion of the office. But we can't let that stop us. We can't let that stop us.

A lesson from the new arrivals in the ranks: Join the generous club yourself. There's no set initiation fee just anything you get and scrape together and send along.

Thousands on thousands of Boston's poor will need food Christmas. Their one chance of getting it is through the Boston American Fund. We can hardly hope to make it big enough to cheer up all the needy, but with generous help we can remedy the most desperate.

Writing along these lines day by day seem to you like paying a good thing. But day by day we get the appeals for help, and realize more and more that we need your help. We need your help.

Medbury Says Opera Singer Uses Bathtub to Drown Her Notes In

By John P. Medbury

A CAMELION from Manchester, Mass., announced that Mrs. Terazzi is now singing while in the bathtub. This is probably what she terms a "Saturday night concert."

THE cable didn't say what song she sang but it must have been "I'm forever blowing bubbles."

JAZZ songs would be the closest to the truth, but she could not sing them here.

BUT she'd have a hard time trying to sing while she was in the tub. The water would be so deep that she would be drowned.

BATHTUB singing should be a universal idea. While a lot of people aren't familiar with it, and some of them know nothing about it.

OF course some anti-air vocalists are such terrible singers that the neighbors would dread to have them take a bath.

THIS only advantage would be that they would be drowned in their own home.

IT'D be great if they'd hold their heads under water while they were singing.

UP the new bathtub have been used for pretty near everything except singing.

IT won't be long before they come under the heading of musical instruments.

LOVE of soap hasn't got a corner on a violin or a saxophone, but almost everybody had a bathtub.

OF course it would be pretty bad to get into the habit of singing in the tub.

WHEN THY PARLOR FURNITURE IS MOVED

Do you feel all out of sorts when you go home and find the furniture and other articles in the house changed about?

Thousands generally want things to be in the same order all the time.

But many husbands are not home enough to have as much chance of becoming tired of appearances as wives do.

Many wives are home twenty-four hours a day, many of which hours are spent in rearranging that they get tired of seeing every piece of furniture, bookcase, chair, couch or rug in the same old place.

In the same old spot day by day and you after you, they have a right to get tired of having a change once in a while.

They have a desire to see things would look changed around in different positions and they know that everything would better and more evenly if changed about occasionally, so it is after all, a blessing.

But most husbands think this is and since the furniture and things are kept in nearly the same position year after year.

In the office or shop there is not the personal, close intimacy that a wife bestows on her home.

(Adoration to the Wonderful Law)

During October, the whole family of the Fujimori removed from Tokyo for a few days to the temple of the religious duties at the temple of Ikegami. Even grandfather Genzouke emerged from his dower-house, bringing his wife, O. Tsugai. Mr. Fujimori was accompanied by his wife, Shideyo, Nan of Sadao and of Asaka. Only Fujimori Takekuni was left behind with his wife Matsuko, was absent.

There had been some further trouble in the family which had not been confined to Asakio, but which necessitated urgent steps towards the protection of his influences. The Fujiwara were followers of the Nichiren sect of Buddhism. Their continued devotion and their large gifts to the priests of the temple were held to be the cause of their family prosperity. The dead Fujiwara, however, died from grief over his fortune in Yedo, were buried at

There had been some further trouble in the family which had not been confined to Asakoo, but which manifested again in the form of the prohibition of religious instruction. The Fulani were followers of the religion of Mohammed. Their conspicuous devotion to the religion of the prophet of the desert was the cause of their ever-recurring quarrels with the Christians. Down from that great evil, emanating from the prophet of the desert, his fortune in Togo, were buried at Ikrang. Here the priests gave to the young Fulani (the son of a son) his new name, which was inscribed on a tablet of wood. Only of these tablets for each dead person was kept in the household of the Togo, and the rest were buried in the temple at Ikrang.

SULPHUR CLEARS ROUGH, RED SKIN

Face, Neck and Arms Easily Made
Smooth by Mentho-Sulphur
Says Specialists

It is from the system. Big, moist waters can flush the kidneys occasionally to relieve them like they relieve the bowels, removing all the acids, waste and poison, else they may feel a dull misery in the loins region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, the stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad they have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment; the channel is irritated and inflamed.

Any breaking out of the skin, even flory, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying a little Mentho-Sulphur. It decolours a skin eruption, soothes the itching, and germ destruction properties, this sulphur preparation begins at once to soothe irritated skin and heal eruptions such as rash, pimples and ringworm.

It seldom fails to remove the torment and disfigurement, and you do not need to stop work or leave your home.

not have to wait to feel relief from embarrassment. Improvement quickly shows. Sufferers from skin trouble should obtain a small jar of Rowley's Mentho-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like cold cream.
